For
Empanelment as Trainers for ASHA training under National Rural Health Mission

Background:

ASHAs are a central feature of the National Rural Health Mission's (NRHM) community process component. Today there are 8,50,000 ASHAs across the country who have contributed to the measurable outcomes of NRHM. The ASHAs are trained to develop a set of competencies, the majority of which relate to improving maternal and newborn health, child health and nutrition, and selected disease control programmes.

NHSRC invites applications from qualified individuals for 'Empanelment as Trainers for ASHA training under NRHM'. The eligibility criteria are as follows:-

Eligibility Criteria:

1. Should have substantial experience in training, with a nursing/clinical background.
2. At least seven to ten years of experience as a trainer. Retired staff nurses, Nurse/ANM tutors can also be considered
3. Understanding and empathy for rural poor and women

Roles and Responsibilities:

1. To serve as trainer at designated training sites
2. Support and supervision to ensure conduct of quality training at the designated training site for state and districts trainers and also the ASHAs.
3. Support the State ASHA Resource Centre or team in developing training plans and organizing district workshops for personnel from support structures.
4. Participate in training workshops in the states for ASHA trainers to supervise the quality of training, provide feedback trainers and enable improvement.
5. Serve as a co-evaluator of ASHA trainers at the end of every training session.
6. Undertake regular visits to various training sites to monitor quality of training
7. Support the state team in building a system for evaluation of ASHA Trainers in the training sites.
8. The role includes extensive travel to other states to support the ASHA training, at an average of 20 days in a month.

Last date of submission:

There is no dead line. Applications can be submitted on a rolling basis but for consideration in the first batch of applications should reach NHSRC by 01 October 2012.
