

2nd National Convention on Quality in Public Health

"Towards Comprehensive Care , Quality Care "

20th & 21st of April 2018

PGIMER Auditorium , Dr. RML Hospital, New Delhi

Quality of care is the single most important determinant for getting the expected health outcome, efficiency in health system and client satisfaction. National Quality Assurance Program has been launched with aim of improving the quality of service in public health facilities. The program has instituted an organisational framework as well as a culture of periodic assessment and improving the services to meet the National Quality Assurance Standards.

Since the first convention in 2014 the program evolved into a national wide quality movement with new components being added including Kayakalp, LaQshya and Urban health quality. Now it's a good opportunity to felicitate the achievers, share the best practices and energise the quality team for next leap of quality improvement.

The convention will begin with award ceremony for NQAS certified public hospitals and quality teams, followed by technical sessions. Following themes will be covered

1. Lessons from implementing quality - Practitioner's stories
2. Re-engineering the care around Birth - LaQshya
3. Patient Safety framework & Practices
4. Emerging Models of Quality of Care
5. Quality in Comprehensive Primary Healthcare
6. Strategy workshop for state quality teams

Participants are invited to present their work as posters. Best posters will be given awards.
